AMERICA PROPOSES TO STRIP WAR OF GERMAN HORRORS

U. S. Delegates Recommend Ab- solute Prohibition of Asphyxi- ating or Poison Gases

Shantung Break

Chinese Decline to Accept Japan- ese Counter Proposal for Payment of Railroad

Washington, Jan. 6.—A five-power contract to impose penalties for piracy against naval commanders who violate accepted laws of naval warfare was approved today by the armament committee of the Washington conference. The committee completed the Root formula for suppression of U-boat terrorism at sea, and then moved forward toward a proscription of gas warfare on sea or land.

Again Mr. Root drew the resolution to effect the prohibition against an immediate five-power contract to abandon gas or other similar chemical weapons as beyond the pale of human tolerance is proposed, to be worked later by world agreement into the fabric of international law. And again it seemed certain that under American initiative war in the future would be stripped of others of the horrors German ingenuity let loose upon the world.

AD FAVOR GAS BAN.
Italy gave prompt adherence to the anti-gas project as "a real step in the path of progress and civilization." Advancement of the committee prevented the views of the other delegates from being presented but all were said to favor the ban on gas warfare.

As the naval experts shaping technical questions in the naval limitation sessions of the forthcoming treaty still were struggling over definition to make clear the agreements they have already reached, the armament committee adjourned on call. The navy men toiled all day in the hope of concluding tonight, but without success.
They will complete their work tomorrow, however, and the full committee will be in a position to resume Monday with the way clear for quick framing of the naval limitation treaty and its ominous burden of allied understanding and declarations.

It was not definitely decided tonight whether the anti-gas declaration was to be incorporated in the voluminous treaty that will be required to cover the naval understandings. It may be put forth as a separate product of the conference if final approval is given the Root prohibitory resolution.
It seemed more likely, however, that it would go into the general treaty, soon to be laid before the armament committee for final action.

Secretary Hughes called up the subject of poison gas, presenting first the report of the subcommittee to deal with new agencies of war. It showed a disagreement among the experts who considered the subject of whether gas warfare should be wholly abolished.

Pershing Urges Abolishment.
Mr. Hughes then turned to the report of the Pershing subcommittee on chemical warfare of the American advisory committee, unanimously approved by the advisory committee itself, urging abolishment of gas warfare in the following resolution:

"That chemical warfare, including the use of gases, whether toxic or non-toxic, should be prohibited by international agreement, and should be classified with such unfair methods of warfare as poisoning wells, introducing germs of disease and other methods that are abhorrent in modern warfare."

Mr. Hughes also read a report from the land armament committee of the advisory committee, declaring:
"Chemical warfare should be absolutely prohibited by international agreement among nations as abhorrent to civilization. It is a cruel, unfair and improper use of science. It is fraught with the gravest danger to non-combatants and demoralizes the better instincts of humanity."

This report, Mr. Hughes said, was signed by General Pershing as head of the land armament committee of the advisory committee, and also adopted by the advisory committee.

Instance of Naval Brevity.
Still another American report condemning gas warfare was presented by Mr. Hughes. This time it was the general board of the navy that spoke. Rear Admiral Rodgers signed this document. It opened with the question to be considered:

"Should gas warfare be prohibited?"

"Answer," the report continued with naval brevity, "Yes."

Rules of modern warfare, the general board held, prohibited weapons which produced unnecessary suffering, including the dum-dum bullet and the explosive bullet. It followed, the report said, that gases which caused unnecessary suffering should be prohibited.

In view of these reports, Mr.
Hughes said, the American delegation felt it should recommend absolute prohibition of the use in war of as-phyxiating or poison gases. He asked Mr. Root to present such a resolution.

CHINESE REFUSE TO ACCEPT JAPANESE COUNTER PROPOSAL

Washington, Jan. 6.—The Shantung conversations between the Japanese and Chinese delegates were uninterrupted since the late today when the Chinese declined to accept a Japanese counter proposal for payment of the Kiaow-Chow-Tsinanfu railway by a 15-year loan redeemable by China in five years upon six months' notice.

Japanese delegates found unacceptable the two Chinese alternative proposals. "In their present form," providing for a single immediate cash payment or installments covering 12 years with an option to take up remaining notes within a shorter period.
The Chinese offer included the appointment of a Japanese chief engineer.

Japanese "Final Suggestion." The Japanese offer was Japan's "final suggestion" for a settlement of the question of control of the disputed railway, declared to be the crux of the entire Shantung controversy. Masanobu Hamihara, one of the Japanese delegates, told newspaper correspondents after the meeting. He added that there might be another meeting tomorrow or Monday.

The Japanese, he said, had no intention at present of asking intervention by Arthur J. Balfour and Secretary Hughes, although he said the Chinese might consult with the heads of the British and American delegations, under whose "good offices" the conversations were begun several weeks ago, in an attempt to settle the dispute "outside the arms conference."

Dr. Wellington Koo, of the Chinese delegation, was less communicative immediately after the meeting. He characterized the situation as "quite critical."

The latest Japanese proposal was based on direct instructions from Tokyo. The proposal, Mr. Hamihara said, provided for the restoration to China of the Kiaow-Chow-Tsinanfu line by means of the 15-year loan through Japanese capitalists. China, he said, would have full title in the road, but would agree to designate a Japanese traffic manager and chief accountant.
If the loan were redeemed, the obligation to retain Japanese experts would cease.

NEWBERRY CASE ABSORBS SENATE

Subject Will Remain Continuously Before Upper House Until Disposed Of

BITTER FIGHT OPENS

Senator Newberry Himself May Take Floor Monday to Defend Campaign Expenditures

Washington, Jan. 6.—The senate began today its final discussion of the Newberry case, precipitated by the contest of Henry Ford against the seating of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, his Republican opponent in the 1918 election, and was told by Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri, chairman of the senate privileges and elections committee, that Senator Newberry himself would take the floor Monday and defend himself against the charges which involve his campaign expenditures.

The subject under a unanimous consent agreement will remain continuously before the senate until disposed of. A vote is expected sometime next week.

During the debate today, Senator Newberry's claim to his seat was denounced and defended. Crowds filled the galleries in anticipation of a bitter fight and they were not disappointed. At the outset, Senator Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, launched an attack on the Newberry supporters for the position he said they were preparing to take, and Senator Spurgeon and Senator Williams, Democrat of Mississippi, soon joined in the debate.

Newberry Silent as a Sphinx.
When Senator Spencer announced that he had been informed Senator Newberry would take the floor Monday, it was said by leaders that it would be the first time in the two years since his election that the Michigan senator had addressed the senate. There was also a prospect of a speech tomorrow by Senator Townsend, Mr. Newberry's Republican colleague, who was said to be prepared to speak for three hours in defense of the junior senator from his state.

Sensor Williams had not long entered today's debate when the presiding officer was frequently forced to tap for order as the Mississippi senator's shafts produced laughter and occasionally applause from the floor and from the galleries. It was Mr. Williams who elicited from Senator Spencer the statement that Senator Newberry would speak in his own defense Monday.

Sensor Williams said he desired to hear the defense to be offered in the hope that Mr. Newberry could give reasons why he should retain his seat and "not disgrace not only his own good family but the good family of his wife."

There was also hurled at the Newberry supporters the prediction by Senator Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, that "the American people will lay out of the senate chamber every man who casts a vote for Newberry."

"Where are the senators who voted for Lorimer?" queried Mr. Heflin.
"Why, the American people took care of them. All are gone save six."

Attacks Federal Reserve Board.
Although the consent agreement provides that the Newberry question shall be considered to the exclusion of all else, Mr. Heflin digressed in his speech to attack the Federal Reserve board for not having cut down expenditures by the reserve banks in the construction of new banking homes. He spoke particularly of the New York bank and concluded that phase of his digression by the expression of his belief that the New York bank "was looked up with Wall Street so closely that it would not be

DeValera to Retire If the Dail Eireann Accepts the Treaty

Announces Resignation as Irish "President," But Later Qualifies Action

Decision Is Near

Vote May Be Taken This Evening; Supporters Confident Pact Will Be Ratified

Dublin, Jan. 6.—Eamon De Valera today before the Dail Eireann resigned his post as President of the Irish republic.

Later, however, he was understood to say that he would postpone his decision to leave office pending a vote on the peace treaty with Great Britain if the vote was taken within 48 hours. He coupled his resignation with the statement that whatever happened he would retire to private life, but almost in the same breath he spoke of selecting a new cabinet if he was reelected chief executive.

From these conflicting statements the inference was drawn by those attending the session of the Dail Eireann that if the treaty was rejected Mr.
DeValera would remain in office and endeavor to negotiate a new treaty with the British government on the basis of his alternative proposals, but that if the Dail accepted the treaty he would definitely retire from public life.

Vote Saturday Seems Probable.
The Dail adjourned this evening to meet again tomorrow for a further discussion of the treaty. Several of the members told The Associated Press tonight that a vote on the treaty undoubtedly would be taken before 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Supporters of the treaty continued to express confidence that it would be ratified by a small majority, but the people of Dublin are showing great anxiety over the outcome. With the Dail adjourned, fears are entertained that acceptance of the treaty will not necessarily solve Ireland's troubles and fears were expressed in some quarters today that there is great danger of strife.

Mr. DeValera threatened to resign during a private session of the Dail Eireann this morning, at which an eleventh-hour attempt was being made by the peace committee to effect an agreement between the opposing factions at the treaty. When the Dail reconvened in open session in the afternoon, Mr. DeValera carried his threat into effect in the course of an eloquent speech, during which he was moved to such depths of emotion that tears stood in his eyes and his voice occasionally was choked with sobs.

When DeValera announced his resignation, Arthur Griffith objected that the matter before the Dail was a motion for the approval of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Michael Collins said that if the Dail rejected the treaty Mr. DeValera could have his united cabinet in ten minutes. Collins declared DeValera's substitute proposal was "red herring," adding:

"We will have no Tammany hall here."

Never a British Citizen.
Continuing to address the Dail, Mr.
DeValera said he had entered politics as a soldier—as one who had accepted the proclamation of the republic.
He declared the men who drew up that proclamation stood for the heart and soul of the country.

"We have proved that thank God," he added.

The opponents of the treaty applied this statement.

Mr. DeValera said he believed that only by combining treaty and his alternative proposals could the country be kept together. If the treaty went through there would surely be trouble as "not the British government," he declared.

"Thank God," he exclaimed, "I'll never be a British citizen. I'll die first."

Continuing, President DeValera said "I refuse to lay down my order, and the house must decide by constitutional means who is the chief executive."

He then offered the Dail his resignation, saying "And with it goes the ministry."

John Milroy declared Mr. De-Valera's resignation was unavailing for until the Dail had voted on the treaty.

Harry Boland said he had returned from the United States to vote against the treaty and to support Mr. De-Valera. He said doubters Mr. Collins' reference to Tammany hall was meant for him but he disavowed any knowledge of Tammany hall methods.

Professor O'Malley of Galway said the efforts to block a vote on the treaty were grossly unfair to the country.

The speaker then said he would give no decision that would interfere with a vote on the treaty. Whereupon he called for a vote on the motion to suspend the motion for approval of the treaty.

Mr. DeValera recalled the reference to Tammany hall methods and spoke bitterly of divided authority in the Dail. He said Mr. Collins had sent away two members of the army in connection with the kidnapping of A. B. Kay, the Times correspondent, without authority. Collins replied he had received authority from a superior officer.

DeValera declared he was sick at heart and that, whatever happened, he intended to retire to private life.

JACK'S RESTAURANT PROVES WET PLACE

Prohibition Agents Seize $100-000 Worth of Liquor While Owner Is in Court

New York, Jan. 6.—Prohibition agents today raided Jack's restaurant at Sixth avenue and 43rd street and hauled away nearly $100,000 worth of liquor in motor trucks. A large crowd of shoppers witnessed the raid.
The agents left a summons for the proprietor, John Huston. Some employees of the restaurant said that the liquor comprised his personal stock, kept in his home in the same building with his establishment.

For nearly six hours, a number of well-dressed men were engaged in carrying the liquor to two large automobiles. The seized liquor included dozens of cases of Scotch and Irish whiskey, champagne and other fine wines, gin and cordials.

While the raid was in progress, Mr. Huston was being tried in the first district court on a charge of illegally selling liquor about a month ago.

WEST ALBANY SHOPS FOLLOW D. & H. IN CUTTING WORK WEEK

Albany, Jan. 6.—Notices of a 25 per cent reduction in working force in the economic department and a 50 percent reduction in the force employed in the war department of the New York Central railroad shops at West Albany were posted today. Approximately 150 men will be affected. Notice was also given that the shops would work on a five instead of a six day week. The order will be effective next Tuesday.

Officials here intimated that the reduction of the working forces was due to lack of material and would be only temporary.

An order was posted by the Delaware & Hudson railroad stating that the shops at Colonie and other points would operate on a five instead of a six day basis.

LABOR TO REPEL INCORPORATION

"No Other Group of Citizens Has Ever Been Compelled To,"
State Federation Asserts

Albany, Jan. 6.—The legislative committee of the New York State Federation of Labor today issued a bulletin calling upon them to prepare to defend "prohibitive legislation to compel labor unions to incorporate or cease to function." The bulletin signed by J. M. O'Hanlon, as chairman of the committee, declared that compulsory incorporation of labor unions is the object of those who would destroy labor unions and open their funds and the property of their individual members to constant attack for the purposes of confiscation in the courts on the thousand-and-one pretexts on which suits for damages could be based.

"No other group of citizens has ever been compelled to incorporate," the bulletin added. "Compulsory incorporation means calamity for this and unborn generations. The economic conditions that it creates will destroy the seeds of peaceful reversal.
Subjection would become abjective uniformity and future generations becoming propertyless and rose in reckless revolt."

BIG ATHLETIC FIELD WILL BE COMPLETED

National Championship Games of 1922 to Be Held at Rice Stadium

New York, Jan. 6.—Completion of the $2,000,000 Rice Memorial athletic field and stadium in Pelham Bay park was assured today when the board of estimate appropriated $28, 550 for draining, lighting and road work. It is expected the work will be completed before July 1, when the annual Athletic union plans to open the new field with the national track and field championship games of 1922.

Two years ago, Mrs. Isaac L. Rice donated more than $1,000,000 for a recreation field in memory of her husband. Since that time she has made additional donations and the track, field and a portion of the stands are

GENERAL ELECTRIC MONOPOLY ALLEGED

Consumers' Prices of Bulbs Fixed by That Company, Lockwood Committee Hears

New York, Jan. 6.—Consumers' prices of electric light bulbs used in homes, offices and automobiles throughout the United States, are fixed by a combination of manufacturers, it was testified today before the Lockwood legislative committee.

This combination, it was charged, is controlled by the General Electric company.

Despite a federal court decision at Toledo in 1911, which ordered the combination to disband, it is stronger than ever, the committee was told by W.
E. Harper, president of the Miniature Incandescent Lamp company of Newark, N. J. His concern and other individuals had been forced out of business by actual and threatened litigation of the General Electric.

Mr. Harper said. Afterward his company was organized.

The committee slipped into the practices of the General Electric immediately after its counsel, Samuel Untermeyer, charged that through the alleged monopoly the company exacted yearly "an extortionate tribute of $100,000,000 from American consumers."

One effect of this alleged monopoly on prices, Mr. Harper said, was that miniature lamps used in candelabra, costing about a quarter, were sold to consumers at $1.05. Headlight bulbs for Ford cars cost 16 cents to make and sell for 32 cents, he added, while sidelights made for 50 cents retailed at $1.08.

A letter from the General Electric, forbidding Mr. Harper's company to sell any more decorative lamps of a certain type, was offered in evidence.
The witness said he had received it this morning.

A statement issued by the General Electric company after the hearing advised that it had a monopoly on the electric light bulb trade and that it practiced extortion to the detriment of the public.

The field is expected to be one of the best in the country. It will have a circular quarter mile track and a 220-yard straightaway. On the infield will be jumping, running and weight putting pits. A swimming pool, 160 yards long, will be an additional feature of the field.

MARKET CONTINUES IRREGULAR COURSE

Such Strength as Is Shown Results Mainly From Easier Money Rates

New York, Jan. 6.—The stock market today continued its recent irregular or reactionary course. Dealings diminished visibly, however, and there were only occasional traces of involuntary liquidation. Advances from out-of-town sources, including Chicago, were most reassuring.

Such strength as was shown by the stock list resulted mainly from easier money rates. Call loans fell from 1 1/2 to 3/4 per cent at midday, the latter figure representing the lowest quotation in almost six months.

Time money rates also relaxed, 30 and 60 day loans being liberally made on mixed collateral at 4 per cent.

Oils, shippings and motors rebounded from a final three points from yesterday's final prices but fell back for the most part on the pressure direct against General Asphalt and various specialties before the close.

American and Baldwin Locomotives, Mercantile Marine preferred, American International and Mexican Petroleum were among the few conspicuously strong issues. Rails were a negligible factor, moving within traditional limits.

Substantial improvement accompanied the moderate dealings in foreign exchanges.

Liberty bonds added to their recent recovery and first mortgage rails strengthened on a substantial investment inquiry, but industrial issues saved and foreign offerings showed no definite trend.

DISCUSS COMING ECONOMIC PARLEY

Agenda Should Be Strictly Laid Down in Advance, Is French View

(By The Associated Press)

Cannes, France, Jan. 6.—The program of the forthcoming international economic conference was uppermost in today's conversations between the premier and the chief delegates to the supreme council which meets in session here tomorrow.

The French view has been that the agenda should be strictly laid down in advance. It is understood that David Lloyd George, the British premier, agreed to this.

Reparations were discussed by the experts today, the Belgians stoutly opposing any modification in the schedule of payments that might compromise their priority in the 2,500,000,000 gold marks due from Germany. The French delegation is backing the Belgians on this point, but it is inclined to make concessions to the British viewpoint to the extent of reducing the cash payments to 200,000,000 gold marks annually and the rest of the reparations in kind.

The British go farther than this and desire to reduce the deliveries in kind so that the total, both in cash and in kind, can be reduced about 25 per cent from the Paris agreement, or 1,500,000,000 gold marks.

Participation by Germany in the eventual international economic conference is now taken for granted, but there still is discussion as to what would be the consequences of the presence of Russian Soviet delegates, which it is held in French circles would be tantamount to recognition of the Bolshevik regime.

DOVE OF PEACE GOES FIRST. Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill., Jan. 6.—With the dove of peace, the favorite bird of the arms conference, the navy department will start disarmament at Great Lakes by selling the feathered occupants of the station pigeon cote.

INDOOR COLLEGE TRACK MEET. Hanover, N. H., Jan. 6.—Dartmouth's 1922 track schedule includes an indoor meet with Harvard and Cornell on February 28. The spring season will open April 28 with the Penn relay carnival at Philadelphia.

SHE IS "FULL OF PEP" THEY SAY

She Is Good-Looking and Gay and Is Always Ready for a Good Time

Why is a girl popular? Look around and see what a good time the good-looking ones have all the time. Men seek them out and ask them to parties, dances and entertainments. And notice that it is not the doll-like type that men like best, but the red-blooded girl with "pep" and happy good nature. Any girl who is tired and languid and has a poor complexion and dull eyes can improve her condition and be far happier if she will simply make Guido's Pepto-Bismol and she has put her blood into good condition. Red blood means "full of life" and "full of pep" usually means happiness.

See Guido's Pepto-Bismol and see how much better you feel. Doctors have used it nearly thirty years for weak, run-down people. It helps them get well. Sold in both liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and clogged liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

MR. DAVIS IS GRATEFUL FOR HELP RECEIVED

"For over five years," says Walter Davis, "rheumatism and kidney trouble had wrecked my system."

"I used to have the worst kind of back aches and dizziness, and was badly crippled. I had tried everything, but nothing had settled my joints so that it was all I could do to move my muscles. They were so stiff and sore, I couldn't bend and heaved my feet and it seemed, no matter what I ate, I was still ailing."

"I was completely unimpaired, from loss of sleep and loss of enjoyment from the doctor's medicine. I had heard of a certain medicine, but never dreamed it would help the way it has. I can now walk in my shoes and walk as well as when I was a youngster. My food digests itself now, and I can eat about everything I want without any after effects. Every bit of swelling has left my joints, and I no longer have those dread headaches, or dizzy spells. My constitution is a thing of the past. You can put me down for a member of the best medicine for their patients that has ever been heard of. HONOR TO WHOM HONOR.
In an article which appeared in this column of The Star on Wednesday last it was stated, referring to the new city officials, that "men elected are administrative representatives of the people as a whole, and it is as much the duty of the public to support them in any good work as it is for the officials to labor for the public weal."

This being true, as unquestionably it is, regarding officials newly elected, it is equally a duty at the close of the official term to recognize the good work which has been done, often under circumstances of extreme difficulty, and to express the public satisfaction. At best the task of administering office is to a large extent thankless; and criticism is easier than praise, however much the latter is merited.

It is therefore a pleasure, and sincerely longed for, on the part of this journal specifically to acknowledge for itself and for the city of Oneonta the indebtedness which the community owes to Andrew E. Ceperley, whose term of office as mayor of the city of Oneonta expired with the year 1921. At first appointed to fill the unexpired term of the lamented Mayor Lunn, he twice received the endorsement of almost unanimous approval for four and a half years with excellent judgment, good understanding of the public needs, tact and courtesy. While there are always demands, which though proper are beyond the possibilities of the municipal budget, he has throughout his term given such requests a balanced consideration and has endeavored as far as feasible to grant reasonable petitions and to further in every way possible the interests of the city. The improvements which during his administration have been carried out are too numerous to be catalogued here, but they will occur to practically every citizen.

The personal quality of any executive, whether of state or nation, is largely measured by the qualifications of the men drawn by him into association with his work. Judged by this standard Mayor Ceperley does not suffer when the names of his appointees upon the city boards are considered. They have been selected from many walks of life, but in every instance with consideration of their qualifications for the particular commission to which they were designated; and it is a pleasure, recalling the quality and extent of their unselfish and unremunerated service, to congratulate them upon the work which they did, and the ex-major upon his judgment in selection. Since there is nothing else which the citizens of Oneonta can do, they can and doubtless will join in this inadequate tribute to the man who for so long a period have met the problems of administration thoughtfully, courageously, without bias, and to the best of their judgment; and this tribute is in equal measure due to the three members of the common council which along with the mayor retired from public service on December 31.

Zindie's Bail Fixed at $5,000.
Harry Zindie, 44, Oneonta trainman, charged with being implicated in a series of thefts from freight cars of the D. & H. railroad between Albany and Delanson, was held yesterday by Judge Davenport at Delanson to await the action of the grand jury.
Bail was fixed at $5,000, in default of which the prisoner was committed to jail. Zindie is specifically accused of conspiring with a number of thousands of dollars' worth of freight from the road was revealed two weeks ago by the arrest of four Albany jitney drivers, who are now being held in heavy bail. —[Albany Journal.]

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

For a Flexible Tariff.

We don't want a prohibitive tariff or an insufficiently protective tariff.
Any tariff written while world trade and production are as unsettled as they are today would be merely provisional in character. It might become obsolete within a year. But it takes congress many months to enact new tariff laws. With some revisionary power conferred to the executive department the necessary adjustments can be made as conditions alter. The rigid yard stick soon begins to measure wrong. Convenience and equalization therefore demand an elastic yardstick.
Those who want to cling to the old yardstick seem unable to realize the vast changes in economic relations.
American as well as foreign, which were brought about by the war.— [New York Tribune.]

Live Your Desire.

Every word of good will you send into the world is a silent, mighty power working for peace, health, love, joy, success to all the world—including yourself.
Would you be at peace? Speak peace to the world.
Would you be healed? Speak health to the world.
Would you be loved? Speak love to the world.
Would you be successful? Speak success to the world.
For all the world is so closely akin that not one individual may realize his desire except all the world share it with him.—[The Nautilus.]

Tax Exemption in But Six Cities.

Only six cities in the state have taken advantage of the emergency law passed by the legislature permitting municipalities to suspend local taxes for ten years on new erections. Real estate men and property owners generally are strongly against such exemption, which they insist is discriminatory and unjust. Apparently it is unnecessary too. It does not appear that in towns where exemption has been granted the building activities are much in excess of those in which exemption can be extended until expires next year unless the legislature amends the law.—[Newburgh News.]

Within His Rights.

Debs has as much right to preach economic and social changes as any other man. He can even advocate economic "revolution," through orderly processes. And if he can persuade a majority of his fellow citizens that he is right and his principles are sound he can modify, change or overturn the present system of government. The reason he won't succeed in such a peaceful revolution is because there is no prospect that a majority of his fellow citizens will accept his principles as sound and wise. The more he preaches, talks and writes the more essential fallacy of his doctrines will be established.— [Ithaca Journal News.]

The G. O. P. Way.

Well, we see we earnest and efficient Republicans are now just going to save the taxpayers $1,000,000 a day, and we're always just going to do something like that.—[Ohio State Journal.]

Among Other Things.

Also the conference has helped to an appreciation of the difficulties and accomplishment of the Wilson diplomacy.—[Springfield Republican.]

A Coarse Philadelphia Opinion.

It costs a third of a billion to run New York for a year and we doubt if it is worth it.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Strange, but True.

Talk about carry coals to Newcastle, importing pepper into Hindustan, sending fir trees to Norway, or pouring water into the sea! According to Secretary of Commerce Hoover, British coal is being delivered at our Atlantic ports at a price to compete with the product of American mines a few miles distant.—[Providence Journal.]

ABOUT MOTHER SHIPTON.

Alleged Prophecy by Seventeenth Century Seeress Still Has Currency.

In response to a request from readers, The Star reprints a piece of ancient verse known as Mother Shipton's Prophecy, which has had a currency for a considerable period of years, though not by far the several hundreds assigned by tradition.
"Carriage without horses shall go.
And accident fill the world with woe.
Around the earth thought shall fly In the twinkling of an eye.
The world upside down shall be And gold be found at the root of a tree.
Through hills men shall ride,
And no horse be at his side; Under water men shall walk, Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk;
In the air men shall be seen In black, in white, in green.
Iron on the water shall float.
As easy as a wooden boat; Gold shall be found and shown In a land that is not now known." There were generally two more lines added to the "prophecy," varied a little from the necessities of rhyme. One of these was:
"The world unto and end shall come In eighteen hundred eighty one." Another variant was:
"Not one on earth shall be alive In eighteen hundred sixty-five."
This was changed, as was the earlier one, to fit any other year ending with one or five.
As the earth has outlived a number of cycles of ten, not to say of Cathay, since the "prophecy" suitably doctored, began to be printed, it will doubtless go on a while longer.
Mother Shipton, by the way, was an alleged prophetic mentioned in a tract of 1641 as foretelling the death of Cardinal Wolsey and others but the prophecy was never heard of until 1862, when the additions predicting the steam engine, telegraph, etc., were made by Charles Hildrey.

Fresh roasted coffee beans, freshly ground, are essential in order to make good coffee. If you like that kind, get Osego coffee. It's always fresh.

THE NEW PLAINS SCHOOL

FINE BRICK STRUCTURE AT JUNCTION WILL BE OPENED NEXT MONDAY.

Equipped With All the Latest Facilities, Including Domestic Science and Manual Training Departments and Auditorium; Superb Old White Schoolhouse on Otego Road.

"District School Detour" might well be used to describe the Plains school, which for several months past has been in the course of construction and which will be thrown open for scholars for the first time next Monday morning.

Although in reality a district school, the new structure, which is located at the Junction, adjoining the Robinson gasoline station, is in appearance and appointments a modern city school—far from the old "little red schoolhouse of the hill." The new building, a two-story brick structure, resembles the Chestnut Street school and is about the same size. There are six class rooms, which it is believed will adequately fill the needs of the district for years to come. The rooms are attractively finished and have all the latest essentials to modern education. In addition, the school is provided with city water, has a modern heating plant and electric lights throughout. The lights are not yet connected but will be within a short time.

Features ordinarily foreign to district schools will be the domestic science and manual training departments. The equipment has not yet been secured for these departments but negotiations are under way for first-class kitchen accessories and carpenter's tools.

A good-sized auditorium with stage, is another feature of the school. This will be used for morning assembly, and, when electric lights have been installed, no doubt will be the scene of evening entertainments for the school children and their parents.

The fine new building supercedes the familiar white school house located on the Otego road. This school has been in service for many years but was outgrown long ago. There are about 100 children in the Plains district—District No. 6 of the town of Oneonta—who will attend the new school commencing Monday. William Hastings is principal and teacher, and is assisted by Mrs. Lucy Hastings.

It is not probable that it will be necessary to add to the teaching force in the future, owing to the large registration expected.

Although the school opens Monday, it will not be ready for public inspection for some time yet. The trustees plan to hold a public reception and formally opening the school has got under way and all the equipment is in place, thus giving patrons of the school an opportunity to see for themselves just what advantages are provided for educating the young.

The building itself is a testimonial of the good work of the Architectural Concrete Products company of this city, of which S. G. Puccio is head. Work was begun on the building last June and excellent progress was made. The heating and lighting fixtures were installed by the West End Electric shop.

The trustees of the district, who have taken an active part in supervising the planning and constructing of the new building, are Leon Potter, Sanford Shepard and W. D. Butler.

HELPS IN CURING A COLD.

When Recovery Begins, Heavy Food Needed to Repair Damages.

The old axiom of "feed a cold and starve a fever" has been pretty much reversed by present knowledge, say home economics workers at the State College of Agriculture, who not only warn against contagion, but also advise special consideration of the diet at the indication of a cold.

Since colds are often contracted during a period of weariness or exhaustion, when the system is perhaps somewhat clogged, a light laxative diet of, say, hot lemonade, orangeade, broths or gruels, baked potatoes, and mild stewed fruits and vegetables are advised for the early stages.

As soon as the cold breaks, one may return to the normal diet and upon approaching full recovery, a diet slightly heavier than normal should be taken to aid the body in repairing damages. A more liberal use than usual of milk, eggs, and fruit, accompanied by more butter, cream, bacon or other fats will help in this.

BAGS PROTECT FROM DUST

Two Styles Can Be Easily Made at Home of Variety of Materials.

Save Cost in Keeping Clothes Right.

A garment will retain its freshness much longer if it is protected from dust and strong light by a cover bag.

practical tests have shown.

Any material which is dust proof and will stand laundering without becoming starchy, may be used for making cover bags, say the home economists workers at the state college at Ithaca. Satton, cambric, cretonne or silks have been found satisfactory materials for this purpose. Lighter weight materials, such as mull or law, may be used but because of their softness they do not furnish as good protection against dust.

The bag may be sewed up at the sides and an envelope opening left at the bottom so that the bag may be slipped over the garment. A bound button hole at the top of the bag is made just large enough for the hook on the hanger to be slipped through.

If the button hole is larger than necessary it will allow dust to sift through onto the garment. The envelope-like flap is folded over and may be tied with tapes to the body of the bag or may be fastened with buttons and loops.

More Elaborate Type.

In another style bag the opening is made down the center front. An oval piece of heavy cardboard, light weight board or shingle, is used for the top and a similar piece for the bottom.

An opening for the hook of the hanger is cut in the top piece. The ovals are covered with the bag material and the bag is sewed around them, certain fashion. It can be tied down the front with tapes, or snap fasteners.

This type of bag has been found to furnish ideal protection against crushing and seems particularly adapted for dainty dresses and evening gowns. It is, however, more difficult to make and takes more space in the clothes closet.

Throw-Over Covers.

Covers to throw over garments in frequent use may be quickly and easily made. Material about one yard square is used. Old sheeting may be utilized.

A bound button hole is made in the center for the hanger hook.

lengths for coats, suits or dresses may

WHOM DO WE WORK FOR?

A question apparently easy to answer but often far from being correct

It is not the Sales Manager, the General Manager, the President, the Board of Directors, the Stockholders nor even ourselves as one would naturally reply to such a question.
The man to whom we really owe our jobs, individually and collectively, figure it any way you like, is none other than the customer—Mr. Car Owner—the ultimate consumer. *It is none other than he who pays us our salaries and tells us whether we shall run full time, double, half time, or not at all.

It is he who is meeting our annual pay roll, and it is upon him that we must depend for the future security of the entire automobile industry. This industry which is the foundation upon which our particular business is built, exists because of the good will of this ultimate consumer.

We, as an industry, are sitting about a table at the head of which sits Mr. Car Owner in the role of host. At each side we have our esteemed friends, the manufacturer, the distributor, the dealer, the service man, the accessory man and others. We're all eating out of the same bowl and this happens to be in charge of the man at the head—Mr. Customer, in the composite, represents over 9,000,000 car owners. As a rule he is a very fair-minded man and the chances are that he will give all of us a generous helping, and, if we are considerate of him, if we observe his rules of etiquette, if we show a proper respect for his likes and dislikes—his whims and fancies—perhaps he may give some of us an extra spoonful or two—for don't overlook, the bowl is still well filled.

It is up to all of us to forget some of our past tactics and realize that the whole scheme of things has been reversed. We are all trying to buy the customer's dollars—our currency is in the form of gears, cylinders, pistons, axles and knowledge—the exchange must be mutually advantageous—both sides must benefit—honesty must be the basis of all transactions. If the customer tries to pass off a counterfeit dollar on us, we refuse to take it, and by the same token if we attempt to give him a counterfeit gear, or defective axle, he has an equal right to become angered. In the new scheme of affairs we must put up a stiff fight for every bit of the business that we get and service to the customer is the cornerstone upon which the future progress of our entire industry will rest.

"Service is a matter of the most vital importance, deserving the greatest consideration from us all. We can best help ourselves by helping one another."

Our charge for service effective Jan. 2, 1922, is $1.00 per hour. By service we mean a thorough knowledge of that which we undertake combined with one of the best equipped repair shops in New York state. Our service manuals are up-to-date on all the changes made by the manufacturer.

We are authorized distributors for Exide Batteries, Delco Parts, Remy Parts, Klaxon Parts and Gabriel Snubbers. We also carry a complete line of Timken, Hyatt and New Departure Bearings.

PURSE SNATCHER CAUGHT

Man Who Robbed Woman of Handbag on Main Street Last Evening Soon Apprehended by Police—Will Answer Grand Larceny Charge.

Quick work on the part of the police resulted in the arrest at 5 o'clock last evening of Edward Manning of Albany, but two hours after he had snatched a purse from the hands of a woman on Main street in front of the residence of H. W. Sheldon and had made a getaway down Knapp avenue. Such a crime committed after dark constitutes grand larceny in the first degree and it is upon that charge that Manning will be arraigned in police court this morning.

The woman, who lives on Otsego street but whose name is withheld at the request of the police, was walking home at about 4 o'clock and had reached a spot on Main street opposite the Sheldon residence when a man came up behind her and, snatching the handbag from her, turned and ran down Knapp avenue. She went at once to police headquarters and reported the matter. Although the police had little to work upon, the woman being unable to give a description of the man, Chief Horton and Patrolmen Howard started out and within less than two hours had located the man in a dwelling on Hunt street. The method they used was to check up every suspicious character and stranger in that locality. The purse contained a small amount of change, $20 in postage stamps, keys to a safety deposit vault and other articles of minor value. All of the articles were discovered except the change and the keys to the vault.

Manning, it is understood, has a previous criminal record. In 1918 he was released on parole from Clinton prison where he had served two years on a grand larceny case and was arrested again in 1919 for violation of his parole serving then the remainder of his sentence.

KEEN BUT FRIENDLY RIVALRY

Opposing Chiefdoms Discuss Approaching Chamber of Commerce Stock-Taking Campaign.

A spirit of keen, but friendly, rivalry prevailed when the chiefdoms of the two opposing sides in the approaching Chamber of Commerce stock-taking campaign met yesterday afternoon to determine the details on which the competition will be based. Colonel Ralph S. Wyckoff of the Boosters' abolished the rank of captain in the organization of the challengers and is now completing selection of his corps of six captains. Colonel A. E. Copeley and President Owen C. Becker of the Chamber have selected Koscoe C. Briggs, H. W. Talmage and Charles J. Deans as majors of the three divisions, of two teams each, which will represent the members, the Boosters, in the contest to which they have been challenged.

A system of points was devised at the parley yesterday to enable the teams performing the most useful service to the Chamber during the campaign to receive the score their work merits. Three schedules of points are filed, from 25 to 75 points for members according to the amount of dues received with the pledge from 20 to 100 points for payments received on dues owed by delinquent members according to the amounts and from 5 to 40 points for dues for 1922 paid in advance by present members, if they wish in this way to aid either side in building up a larger score.

He dreamed that 12 good able and broad minded men would unselfishly work to teach and help little fellows of Oneonta and vicinity to combine small amounts together, safely loan money to each other for getting homes and farms on easy terms and so that rent money would pay for them and divide all gains together. The dream has come true up to millions of dollars a chance to safely place a dollar per month and get better returns on her dollar than the wealthy person with his dollar, with same safety and big fellows are now in the game. It was done through the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association, which is still on the job is now starting a new big bunch of people to help and at the same time benefit themselves, has made Oneonta famous throughout the state and is to become the strongest safest and most beneficial financial institution in several surrounding counties. ## GUN CLUB BANQUET

SPORTSMEN DINE ON VENISON AND HEAR EXCELLENT SPEECHES.

Strong appeal for reforestation and support to prevent forest fires by C. H. Pettis, Superintendent of Forests—Hon. George L. Bookes and John W. Orr and Dr. E. J. Parish Also Give Enjoyable Responses.

There are eight million acres of abandoned farm lands in the state of New York, a large portion of which have been literally "miled out" and are suited only for the growing of forests, while we are producing less than 12 percent of the wood that is used in the industries of the state, Clifford R. Pettis, superintendent of forests of New York, told the members of the Oneonta Fish, Game and Gun club in his interesting address at the third annual dinner of the club at Windsor hotel last night. The dinner abounded in enjoyable features but it resulted virtually in a campaign mass meeting for reforestation on the part of the state, the municipalities and private enterprises, with quite possibly keener interest aroused in that important subject than any previous gathering ever held in the city.

There was a large attendance, the committee exceeding the limitation of 100 persons. Mr. Pettis, who was to provide for the members applying, until the dining room was overrun and tables were spread in the corridor of the hotel. Mr. Swart served an excellent dinner for the members and guests, roast Pennsylvania venison, proof of the skill of the hotel proprietor with the rifle and with the other clubs was a feast to a needy and the feast was not only well prepared but equally well served by two efficient corps of waitresses.

During the dinner and frequently during the responses a quartet composed of Messrs. Gessner, Smith, Shaples, Chesbro, Holland and State, rendered several selections and Mr. Chesbro delighted all with a solo number, as well as directing the songs which the gathering sang with vim.

Following the dinner Walter H. Lynch, who presided over the after-dinner speaking, alluded to the fact that the gathering had assembled on the third anniversary of the death of a man who during his lifetime and since was recognized as one of the foremost if not the foremost American of his day who were he alive would have enjoyed gathering with those present. Mr. Lynch suggested that all rise and stand for a minute in silent tribute to the lamented Roosevelt, which all did the suggestion evidently meaning that the approval of all was given to the speaker, after alluding with feeling to his long and pleasant relations with the late L. S. Emmons in the department at Albany, said that he was pleased to meet here an old friend whom he had known as the publisher of a successful paper in the Adirondack region for 15 years, referring to Kenneth W. Goldsmith, continuing several selections and Mr. George L. Bookes who preceded him had given much of the material he had outlined in his mind to say and that he would not repeat but would emphasize certain phases of the reforestation question and present the views he had brought.

Mr. Pettis said that the present unfortunate lack of timber in the state is due largely to misuse of our forest lands and wastefulness in the past and our lack of foresight. Practically every industry needs lumber in some form. It enters into the construction of nearly everything we use yet we are lacking in this very material which now has to be brought long distances at large expense adding to the cost.

He then gave a brief outline of the development of trees, and attributed much of the neglect of reforestation to the time element which precludes immediate returns. He emphasized the need of fire prevention and urged everyone of his hearers to be a missionary in behalf of care in the woods to avoid forest fires. He closed with interesting views thrown upon the screen of the state's forest preserve, its necessities and the prevention work.

"SECOND MILE" CAMPAIGN

Rev. S. D. Bowden, Distinguished Missionary Leader, Speaks at First Baptist Church of Oneonta Sunday Morning; River Street in Evening.

Oneonta will be the scene on Sunday, January 8, of one of a series of interesting campaign meetings which will be held all through the state of New York during January, in what is known as "The Second Mile Campaign of the New York Baptist State Board of Promotion."

The purpose of the Second Mile campaign is to secure the balance of the state quota in the hundred million dollar drive of Northern Baptists—a sum which amounts to $3,000,000 for the state of New York. Northern Baptist officials under the leadership of T. E. Varney, director of the State Board of Promotion, have thoroughly organized the state for this campaign.

Each of the 40 associations in the state has a committee of six for this work, consisting of two pastors, two laymen and two women, and each Baptist church in the state has a campaign leader with captains and officers for each church. There is also a laymen's committee for large gifts. More than 75 important missionary addresses will be delivered in its single parts of the state during the month of January in the interest of the Baptist convention campaign.

One of the chief speakers, who will be present in Oneonta Sunday, in the First Baptist church in the morning, and in the River Street Baptist church in the evening, will be Rev. S. D. Bowden, who has been decorated by the government of South India for his missionary services among the criminal tribes known as the Dandak in India, where crime is hereditary and the son of a thief automatically becomes a thief himself. The regeneration of this class is one of the most important problems that presents itself to the missionary.

Dr. Bowden, during his eight years of work in Ongole, South India, has won such a reputation for transforming criminals into useful citizens that the government even turns them over to his settlement instead of imprisoning them.

Dr. Bowden is a speaker of unusual eloquence as well as a great missionary leader. He will be only one of the features which will make the campaign meeting in Oneonta notable.

DR. GEORGE J. DANN TO SPEAK.

Upon "The Fundamentals of Prosperity" at Union Service Sunday Evening.

At the union service in which six of the churches of the city unite, to be held at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening Dr. George J. Dann, city superintendent of schools, will be the speaker and his subject will be "The Fundamentals of Prosperity."

The aim is to make these Sunday evening services attractive and to have the subjects presented bear upon present day problems and Dr. Dann will no doubt have something to say of interest to all who attend. It is hoped that there will be a large audience out to hear him speak upon this subject.

First Reception in Nine Years

The White House New Year reception was revived by President and Mrs. Harding, Jan. 2, for the first time in nine years. Members of the cabinet, government and military officials were received first. Then, for more than two hours the public moved through the mansion in a line three blocks long as you see above.

DE GROAT BACK IN CITY

Waiver Examination and is Held in $2,500 Bail for the Grand Jury—Brought to Onondaga Yesterday.

D. C. DeGroat, for whom the police have been hunting since a warrant was issued for his arrest last July on the charge of grand larceny in the first degree, is back in Onondaga. Chief of Police Horton and Sheriff Williams, who left for Little Rock, Ark., on Saturday, information having been received that he was under arrest in that city, returned with their prisoner at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When arraigned before City Judge Huntington last evening, DeGroat waived examination and was held for the grand jury under $2,500 bail. He was still in custody early this morning, having been unable up to that time to find bondsmen. If he cannot secure the bail set by Judge Huntington, he will be taken to Cooperstown to await the action of the grand jury at its sitting in February.

Since he left Onondaga last July taking with him, it is alleged, the proceeds of a business deal to which he, Herbert Denton and Jerry Wilson were partners, DeGroat has seen a considerable portion of the south and southwest. Working on various jobs, part of the time with a carnival, he went from state to state. He had been in Little Rock but a short time, coming there from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. DeGroat has volunteered but little information concerning himself or the case in which he is involved and he has not been questioned to any length by the police authorities.

HELPING OTHERS, THEIR MOTTO. Girls of Bluebird Club Spread Christmas Cheer Among Shut-ins.

At the regular meeting of the Bluebird Club, held last evening at the Community house, the girls related their experiences during the holiday season. Probably few citizens knew of the cheer and happiness these girls brought into many homes at the Christmas season.

For two weeks prior to Christmas, the girls rehearsed Christmas carols in their regular meetings. Then as Christmas drew near, they went around to homes where there were shut-ins or invalids and sang the heartiest Christmas carols that never grew old. To all 72 homes were visited, and in more than one instance the recipients of the Christmas cheer were so delighted that they asked the girls to return a second time, which they did. It was indeed a fine bit of sentiment, and the girls are to be commended for their remembrance of others. But the shut-ins were not alone benefited, as the girls themselves found a great deal of satisfaction in bringing joy and happiness into other lives. The girls rehearsed the carols under the direction of Miss Annie Waters, to whom credit and thanks are also due. Mrs. H. W. Lee has charge of this division of the Bluebird club.

About 25 girls were present at last night's meeting, which was greatly enjoyed. Apples and popcorn balls were given out as the time came for breaking up the meeting and departing for home.

Must Return to Native Russia.

Mike Proleska, who states that he has no home, evidently didn't learn his lesson when City Judge Huntington sentenced him to 150 days in the Albany penitentiary for vagrancy last August. Upon his release from the Albany jail, Proleska at once came to Onondaga with the result that on Thursday evening he found himself again in the clutches of the law, officer arresting him as soon as he hit the city on the same charge which got him into trouble last time. When arraigned yesterday morning, Proleska pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in the Albany penitentiary. Judge Huntington suspended sentence, however, upon condition that Proleska find some way to get back to his native Russia. He had not done it out last evening and was still in custody. He has a brother in the city.

Well Known in Onondaga.

Many of the older people of Onondaga will very pleasantly recall Mrs. Harriet Hudson, a former resident of the village 40 or more years ago, but now of Rock Stream, near Ithaca. A letter received from her yesterday by Mrs. Lu M. Williams of 170 Main street brings the interesting information that Mrs. Hudson, who is now in her 85th year was never in better physical health, had better eyesight or was more mentally alert than at present. A year ago last summer Mrs. Hudson, in company with her daughter, Mrs. John Warner of New York, visited Onondaga and spent some time with friends of the late age.

HAPHAZARD EXTENSION

The Department of Agriculture is one instance of how governmental establishments grow and spread and extend their activities, once they get started. The bureau of fisheries, in the Department of Commerce, is another. It had a modest beginning, and not so very long ago. Prior to 1871 there was no branch of the federal government especially charged with the consideration of fishery affairs.

Several of the states had established fish commissions and these state authorities, supported by private interests, began to agitate for a national bureau devoted to fishery interests.

So it came about that by 1871 congress was ready to yield and begin to make appropriations. The first one was for $5,000 and provided for a commissioner of fish and fisheries to prosecute investigations and inquiries with the view of ascertaining whether any and what distribution in the number of fish species of the coast and in the lakes of the United States has taken place and also whether any and what protective, prohibitory or precautionary measures should be adopted in the premises; and shall report upon the same to congress.

The commission was to draw no pay, for it was provided by congress that the same joint resolution that should be a civil officer of the government, or of a state or territory, or of a practical acquaintance with the fishes of the coast, who should serve without additional compensation. The then assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, by name Spencer Fullerton Baird, was chosen as the best man for the job, and so he proved to be. He was diligent and competent and knew how to get along with congress. He was diligent and he stood before kings. See what happened.

Remember, he started out with $5,000 to discover whether there had been any diminution of the supply of food fishes along the coasts or in the lakes. He was at the head of an independent investigation and reported directly to congress. The thing was kept alive by annual appropriations as an independent institution until 1903, when it was incorporated into the newly formed Department of Commerce and Labor as the bureau of fisheries.

By 1909 the annual appropriation had grown to $808,820, and the bureau had a permanent personnel of 225. At that time the land owned and occupied by the bureau at its fish cultural and biological stations had an aggregate area of over 12,000 acres, with a value of $240,000. The improvements and equipment at these stations represented an investment of more than $1,000,000. Other property of the bureau at that time included four seagoing steam and sail vessels, 20 steam launches and 130 small sail, power and rowboats, which with equipment had a value of $306,000. Its six fish-transportation cars were valued at $45,000. Indeed, the total investment of the government in fishery-service property ran to about $1,885,000. That was back in 1909.

Well, it hasn't stopped growing; bigger and busier than ever, as the advertisements say. The appropriation for congress for the fiscal year 1919 was $1,152,140, and for 1921, $1,207,110. Besides what congress gave, the President allotted in 1915 and 1919, out of his private fund "for the national security and defense," $100,000. With the years of its growth and increasing funds the bureau had taken on many new functions and activities.

Until recently the bureau was administering to the best of its ability the laws relating to the terrestrial and arboreal fish of Alaska. But the duty was incongruous to its legitimate functions. Congress finally concluded that the pursuit of foxes does not constitute a fishery. The cultivation of minks cannot be successfully conducted in a fish hatchery.

Apparently, as so many other establishments under the executive branch have, the fisheries service had become all cluttered up with duties and jobs it is not fitted or equipped to handle.

All of which is a long, long way from an investigation of the possible diminution of food fish along the coast.

I don't pretend to say of the fisheries bureau that it has performed inefficiently either its proper work or the added activities that have been imposed upon it. For all I know it may be and is a great national blessing, and managed with maximum skill, intelligence and real economy. I hope it is.

I cite it here only as an example of a branch of governmental activity that has grown up haphazard from a small beginning to be a great, costly, far-spreading enterprise that by its own confusion is overlaid with duties, functions and activities unrelated to its legitimate and essential business—the care, propagation and study of all manner of food fish.

New Works Nine Hours a Day.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting, and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."—Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women. Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous, run-down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of trouble.

GUN CLUB BANQUET

and finally reels of moving picture showing kindred scenes. In presenting them, George L. Buckee, Toastmaster Lynch referred to the need of enthusiasm, to bring things to pass of the efforts. Mr. Buckee has made for the Conservation club and said that he (Buckee) would save the banqueters a view of the lands of the club 50 years hence.

Mr. Buckee referred to the excellent work done by the leaders of the club in former years, paid a tribute to their unselfish devotion to the club and of the commonwealth with them in the woods and among the streams. Mr. Buckee then told briefly but in forceful terms of the crime committed against posterity by the ruthless manner in which we have denuded our hillsides and in the industries that are hand-picked saying that the value of New York stood next in the value of its lumber, that now it stands 24th among the states of the union.

The speaker said that in a few years the club would will have its lands covered with growing trees, the admission of all who pass by, seen it will cover South Mountain will be enclosed with wire fencing, with deer and other game within and, with its fish ponds and other features, be contributing to the pleasure of many. He urged all to give it a helping hand.

John W. Orr, of the Oneonta grange was announced to speak of the "Attitude of the Farmer." Mr. Orr responded with one of the best of after-dinner speeches, which all enjoyed greatly. He said that he could not attempt to outline the needs of the farmers, as there are many and diverse. He alluded to the fact that many of them fail to appreciate the need of recreation that those who are employed in offices experience, but declared that the work of such organizations as the Game and Conservation clubs will, with the aid of thoughtful hunters and fishermen, soon disarm any opposition that exists.

Respect for the property rights of owners is being manifested, and hereabouts he knows of no inclination to prevent the enjoyment of the great outdoors by residents of the cities and villages. He did say that the farmers are opposed to hunting on Sunday and that it would help create good feeling if the practice was discontinued. He spoke very effectively and closed with a recital of Crawford's "My Old Kentucky Rifle."

Dr. Edward J. Farish afforded keen enjoyment and created much merriment early in the evening by his recital of his famous fish story which he modestly admitted was a reading from an old magazine, in which Nels, Captain John Smith and others relate fishing tales while in the happy hunting grounds to which they are gone.

Earlier in the evening also Mr. Lynch related some of the activities of the club, told of prizes offered for the largest brook trout, brown trout, black bass and pickersil to be caught during the coming year and of a consolation prize to go to the member who can relate at the next annual banquet the best hard luck story of the "biggest fish that got away" during the coming season.

During the evening many renewed their memberships for the year with Treasurer Goldthwaite and others are requested to do so when convenient with him or any of the officers.

William John proved the champion Pitch player of the evening.

Everyone Had a Good Time

The dance given at the Normal school last evening by the Arctura society to their Cloniam sisters proved highly enjoyable to the large number of students and their guests in attendance. The music furnished by the Klipschke-Schneiders proved of a quality that caused regret when the flickering of the light at 11 o'clock, signalled the close of a perfect evening. Punch and water furnished adequate and satisfying refreshments.

FOES OF ENGLISH SPARROWS

Pacific Coast Seagulls Drive Them Away From Wharves and Docks.

Seattle.—The Pacific coast seagull conducts an eternal warfare against the English sparrow, and because of it keeps wharves and docks free of the noise and litter so predominant around sparrows' households. Observers declare some older gulls act as sentinels and when a sparrow alights on a wharf roof several immediately chase it away.

On one occasion recently a lone sparrow flew seaward followed by half a dozen gulls, who kept the tiny bird so hotly pursued it fell into the water exhausted.

Wharf operators are grateful to the gulls for this bit of police work, as English sparrows once inhabiting the rafters and overhead work inside the docks would produce an amazing amount of litter to fall into freight and express shipments. A large amount of grain is wasted every day on docks which would attract and feed myriads of sparrows but for the watchful eye of the seagulls.

It is believed the gulls show the antagonistic spirit toward the smaller birds because they fear competition in the salvaging from the sea of their daily food.
